

1. One day, Jesus was preaching in a wide-open field to a large group of all kinds of people: grown-ups and kids, rich and poor, and everyone in-between! There was something different about Jesus' good news, and this made everyone curious.

2. "Love your enemies!" Jesus exclaimed. "Forgive those who hurt you. Be kind and generous with everyone, even if they are not kind and generous in return. Think about this: how do you want others to treat you? Live like that."

3. "It's easy to be kind to those who are kind to you or to share with those who share with you. But what truly shows the world the wideness of God's love is loving others while expecting nothing in return."

4. "You are not better or more important than anyone else—we are all God's children! So let's follow God's example: being kind and loving, merciful and forgiving, generous and compassionate with everyone. This is how we shine God's light in the world!"
